Big Blow

NEW YORK, March 12.—1:30 a.m.—A furious storm of wind, rain, snow, hail and sleet, broke over the Atlantic Coast in this section early Sunday evening. It traveled in a northeasterly direction, as is evidenced by the loss of telegraphic communication, first with Washington, then with Baltimore and lastly with Philadelphia. It is safe to say, no such destructive storm to telegraph wires has been experienced in many years. Not one single wire can be used to Philadelphia and telegraphic facilities between that city and New York are probably unequalled in any similar distance in years the daily weather report has failed. Stronous efforts have been made to reach the capital by way of Chicago, but they were in vain.

The embargo on telegraphic communication is almost complete. The south is entirely cut off. The stock exchange has just unanimously adopted the following:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the members present, that all dealings, so far as possible, be suspended, and deliveries go over until to-morrow, March 13th.

About 7 o'clock, two trains on the Avenue Elevated Railway collided, one train running into the rear of the train ahead. The scene that followed was indescribable. The engine reared up on the end of the last car, and steam escaped in great volumes, but, fortunately, rushed upwards, thus saving the huddled-in crowd on the forward train, as well as those on that end of the platform. The engineer of the rear train was killed and a number of passengers were injured. The hardest snowstorm of the year is raging. At 8 o'clock there was a foot or more of snow on the ground. A high wind caused drifts which in the upper part of the city were three and four feet high. Traffic is almost suspended. Thousands of passengers are blocked on the elevated roads. Horse cars are entirely unable to move. The people who left untoward by the elevated roads were unable to get further than Eight Street by the road. Many of the more venturesome descended to the street by a ladder and walk the rest of the way down town. People in suburban towns found it almost impossible to reach town, so severe were the drifts.

The Starving Indians

WISCONSIN, March 12.—For some weeks alarming reports have been received here from the west that Indians are very restless owing to the neglect of government in furnishing supplies, and that there was serious danger of an uprising unless food was at once forwarded. Mounted police claim to be prepared to put down any revolt, but at the same time admit there will be trouble unless immediate relief is given. Half-breeds at Batouche are in constant communication with Gabriel Dumont, now in New York, and in a recent letter he is understood to have invited them to secure food by pillage rather than submit to slow starvation. His people had a half crop of barley this year, but they were obliged to burn and eat it. Settlers of the northwest territory are considerably alarmed.

Labor Convention

INDIANAPOLIS, March 11.—The chairman of the national committee of the Union Labor Party has issued a call for a national convention in Cincinnati on May 15th. The basis of representation will be two delegates from each congressional district in the several States and Territories, and two at large from each State. The call says in part: This is not a movement of politicians intent on capturing the spoils of office. Let the coming convention be the nucleus for a grand federation of labor. Let us agree upon the essential principles common to all and leave the details of opinion and theories to be settled in the respective State organizations as the diversified interests of the country may demand.

Punishing Bald Knobbers

ST. LOUIS, March 12.—Ten Douglass County, Missouri, bald knobbers, who were convicted last September in the United States Court, at Jefferson City of whipping and driving two home-stealers from government land, have been sentenced by Judge Kerkel to from two to six months in the penitentiary, with costs. Three others who attempted to intimidate government witnesses were each given sixty days in jail.

Movement of Russian Troops

ODESSA, March 12.—The authorities of railways centering at Kief have received orders from St. Petersburg to hold all available trucks for the disposal of the government. Large bodies of troops will move to the southwest frontier upon the breaking up of the severe weather.

Which Was? Bacon or Shakespeare

The authorship of the dramatic productions attributed to the last of the above-named is agitating literary circles to the very centre, but affects the practical masses far less than the momentous question, how to regain or preserve health, that essential of bodily and mental activity, business success and the "pursuit of happiness." We can throw far more light on this latter subject than the most profound Shakespearean can on the question first propounded. If the system is depleted, the nerves shaky; if indigestion or constipation bothers one at times, or constantly if the skin is yellow and tongue furred as in biliousness; if there are preliminary twinges of oncoming rheumatism or neuralgia; if the kidneys are inactive—use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest recuperant of an age prolific in beneficial and successful remedies. Remember, if malaria threatens or afflicts, that it neutralizes the poison and fortifies the system.
